Specialty Laminations™

Fabrication and Finishing Solutions

NASL is the North American leader in differentiated lamination, specialty fabrication and finishing solutions to the building products industry. Our recent acquisitions of Midwest Prefinishing, Inc. and Premium Prefinished Products, Inc expand our best-in-class prefinishing services for interior doors, mouldings, cabinet components and stair components. These enhanced capabilities broaden our single source solution to address the growing demand for color in building products via painting, staining and lamination. Our North American footprint offers our customers the required flexibility in responding to market pressures around capital investment, labor constraints, and rising transportation costs. NASL "We've Got You Covered".™

NASL knows what makes a great finish and we offer a quality finish solution for every budget and specification. We use only the finest stains, finishes and paints to ensure a durable furniture-quality finish. All our work is done in a state-of-the-art, controlled, dust-free environments, guaranteeing material quality, preparation, application, service and experience that is "Simply the Best".

NASL's ProFinish™ is not a formula, but a painstaking process developed over decades. It combines the latest in technology with expert "hands on" processes to handle any size order. NASL's ProFinish™ process is used on mouldings, doors, cabinet components, stair components, wall and ceiling panels or any wood, plastic or MDF substrate. Our oven cured finish coats provide long lasting durability and protection. Mar-Guard protective coatings offers both mar and scratch resistance on any painted moulding. Mar-Guard's proprietary finish offers less marring, is less expensive than jobsite prefinishing, and is longer lasting. NASL is one of the largest prefinishers in the country, providing expert advice, color matching, special orders, warehousing, custom packaging and imprint identification, along with full service trucking out of our locations.

North American Specialty Laminations is positioned to provide high quality prefinished products:

- Multiple Quality Control Checks • Top-flight spray, color and curing technology
- Hand-wiped oil finish with exceptional clarity • Accurate, custom-color capabilities
- Ever expanding prefinishing capacity via continued investment in state-of-the-art equipment
